Casey, Charles Stetson, Edward Hawley and Bradford Chandler.

The Evening Standard of New Bedford referred to this presentation to Alderman Ashley by the citizens of East Weymouth, as follows:

PRESIDENT.—After their ride around town Saturday afternoon, the visiting members of the East Weymouth took supper at the Hotel Alford when Alderman Chas. S. Ashley, who had assisted in their entertainment, was invited to partake of the meal. Mr. Ashby sat in the lobby at the hotel, the visitors were making arrangements to give him a complete surprise, and it was not until it was done that a committee of the friends gathered to the store of William L. Kelley, where they stored a handsome sum which they had taken from their pockets for the benefit of William Fogarty, Jr., will be held in Reynolds Hall, Friday evening, Sept. 28.

Letters and postals remaining in the postoffice Sept. 7, 1888: Mr. George Chambers, Miss Emily Kenney, Thos. Loring, J. S. Rhodes, Mr. Michael Ryan, Mr. Oristal, Mr. Charles L. Summer, Miss Maggie Wragg, James W. Rand, P. M.

Retra.

Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin, who left here last November for Menlovia, Cal., for the benefit of Mr. Griffin's health, returned home last Saturday, by the Union Pacific route. Mr. Griffins is in quite good health, and will resume work in Boston, at the former place.

Accepted.

Gov. Mr. Smith, of Providence, R. I., who recently received a call to the post office of the Baptist church of Weymouth, has accepted the same, and will commence his labors here the 16th inst.

In the regatta of the Hull yacht club last Saturday, the Poy, Capt. Hunt, took 2d prize of $3, the Diadem $10, Flora Lee $5. The Poy was also a competitor in the 2d class centreboards. There was a light breeze.

BREVFS.

TUFTS LIBRARY.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED.

A large number of dogs made night hideous last Tuesday night, some persons having aroused them by a cry of fire, their yelps being continued for two hours.

Mr. Cyrus Washburn is building a carriage shed at the depot for A. L. Hobart's team, the stable having been let to another party.

One hundred incandescent electric lights, of the Sawyer-Mann Co. system, have been placed in the Fire River Engine Works, for lighting of the entire establishment.

Frank Holbrook has left Long's factory at Braintree and taken a position at J. W. Hart & Co., Inc. He has learned that the product of Messrs. Hart is being highly touted recently.

Mr. A. Gammons, who injured one of his hands several weeks ago by a rusty nail, is yet unable to work.

Elder Swan has located his gospel tract at Nash's Corner, and religious services were commenced there last Friday evening, to be continued every evening for a time.

Mr. John Phillips, who has been quite ill for a time, is recovering.

In the district court last week the liquor case of F. E. Smith was tried, and a fine of $50 and costs imposed.

Mr. Silas Whiting remains in feeble condition.

Mr. F. O. Wellington has a card in today's paper of interest to residents who may desire instruction in painting.

Mr. George A. Armitage has returned to Cleveland, Ohio, to resume his professional duties in the Case School of Applied Science.

Flowers for the Hospital patients may be sent next Thursday night to Mrs. E. F. Holmes, Stetson street.

Business is very brisk at the leather dressing shop of Mr. Geo. E. Fairbanks, which is an index of good times ahead in shoe manufacturing.

Mr. Frank Perry, who has been ill in Boston for a few weeks, has returned to Weymouth.

We are indebted to Mr. Bradford W. Burrell for Omega papers. He is located at Hastings, and is in the office of the Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley Railroad.

The State Democratic convention at Springfield last Wednesday nominated Hoia, William E. Russell of Cambridge as candidate for Governor, and John W. Corcoran for Lieutenant-Governor.

"The Candle on the Candlestick," will be the subject of Rev. Mr. Hyde's sermon at Trinity church Sunday evening. The text is St. Mark viii: "And when Jesus saw that they would not believe, he put under a bushel, or under a bed, so that it could not stand on a candlestick."

"Praying Day" was observed Wednesday in Boston in a grand parade of uniformed knights, and reception of the Grand Chancellor, Gen. Wm. Ward, of New Jersey. A picnic was held at Point of Pines, and a meeting in Old Fellows hall, where addresses were made. The Brockton band furnished music.

Mr. Fred O. Sterling, who has been connected with C. W. Shipek's factory in Milford, has taken a position in the shoe factory of J. S. Allen in Brockton.

Mr. W. G. Garde is having a big run of work at his blacksmith shop in the square. He is a first class horse-shoer as well as a square business man.

John S. Fogg, Esq., of South Weymouth, was interviewed recently by a reporter of the Boat and Shoe Recorder, and gave his opinion that no shoe city has better prospects than Brockton, and for that reason he bought a business there.

The Baptist parsonago interior is being improved by new papering and painting, folding doors also being built in the main rooms.

The ladies of the Baptist Social Circle held a meeting in the vestry on Wednesday, tea being served at 6 p. m., and the evening being passed pleasantly.

J. Cavanaugh and son have saved the town of Braintree for $98,000, on their water-works contract.

The bridge over Pine River at Quincy Point is being newly plated. Should a street railroad be built to Old Spain it is thought that a widening of the bridge would be necessary.

Mrs. Emma Fisher and Blanche Wetherbee, assistants at the North High School, found much difficulty in securing a boarding place, having applied at twelve different places. They are now stopping at Mr. E. Hunt's.

The Weymouth band furnished music at the illumination of Hough's Neck, Quincy, last week.

Togers and Turrell will be the East Weymouth battery in the game upon the house grounds with the Weymouth Saturday.

Any one in want of a good carriage at low price, can secure a bargain by calling on David F. Joy, Austin Trelle, George Jenkins, J. Clarence Howe, Abbott Howe; senatorial, William T. Shaw D. M. Easton, Bernard Conroy, Herbert A. Newton, John W. Hart, John W. Casey, Charles Stetson, Edward Hawley and Bradford Chandler.

The delegates are for Morse and Draper.

A maid there is—I know her well,
Yet knowing her I can not tell
If by her looks she is my share;
Will plume me into satin's seat,
I love the maid—

Does she love me?

Into her sparkling eyes I look,
As daisies grow into the brook,
To see a mirror's gleam
The reflex of a happy dream;
But what I seek I cannot see—

I love the maid—

Does she love me?

A. L. HOWARD.

Among the丽丽-FOOT.
Life rainbow in the liquid skies
That ripple in the river,
With flashing wings the dragon flies
In many circles quiver.

Where lies a cloud of silver light
The hints of golden lining,
A mass of liles, fleecy white,
With yellow leaves are shining.

And all the many shiny glass
The water shines like glass
With many colors and river glass
In tangled threads are trailing.

In deep, transparent pools the shells
Of tiny minnows swimming, Dart down where starry star grow bowls
On mimic banks are beginning.

And with their lady canopies
The ardent sunbeam screening,
Among the swaying willow trees
The sycamores are leaning.

It looks sprays above my boat
A wild grapevine is swinging,
And in the reeds with mellow note
A hermit thrush is singing.

So what though in the torrid air
The tiger lit flames, Flit on you're ripples where They drown the dripping rushes.—
—Krause Stein.

FRED'S FARM.

It was the handsomest fellow I ever saw, so tall, so bright, black eyes, soul, curling hair, red cheeks and the shadow of a dark mustache go to make up the beauty.

And no one appreciated this more fully than the sly little Theodore Brown.

Fred was poor, and Theodore,
though an orphan and penniless herself, had been adopted by a wealthy relative,
a maiden aunt, Miss Charity Brown, who seemed determined to make her a man's man; for it was universally conceded that whatever other good traits she might have, she certainly had not charity. So it came about that Miss Charity decided not to allow the two young people to walk together any more to or from singing school and evening meetings, or to look over the same tune book in the village choir.
But finding that, like all other natural attractions, they would gravitate toward each other, and that they were evidently unhappy at being kept apart, while they must see each other so frequently, she began to cast about for some means to separate them entirely.

First she thought she would send Theodore away to boarding-school, but as there was a good academy in the village, this seemed rather too much like a trial; besides she did not like to do without her favorite; so after much consideration another plan suggested and perfected itself in her mind.

She had, away down in New Jersey, a small farm which she had never seen left her by some aged relative who had starved there. In comfortable digs for eighty or ninety years;
This old lady made up her mind that she would offer Fred a fair chance to make a fortune without fail, if he could.

He did as he was told; took the deal and rend it over carefully. By it he learned that he had, at all once, come into possession of ninety acres of land and a stone house, with out-buildings situated in the state of New Jersey, and that one especial point and provision was that he should go there and stay for three years. Otherwise, the property reverted to its previous owner, for her heirs, assigns, etc.

"What?" said Fred, looking puzzled and then speaking quick and angrily.
"You went to rid of me!"

The old lady chuckled. "You will never do for a minister—yes jump at conclusions!"

"But I won't go; I don't accept your gift."

"Very well. Then I'll send Theo away tomorrow, and you may stay here and patiently; and I will not see Theod
without your consent."

"You will not; I will work hard and patiently; and I will not see Theod
without your consent."

To overcome the dangers of our climate, we will have many more. We are exposed to the weather, and we have no shelter. The price of very great expense.

We use them as cheap medicine, placed on the chest and once on the pit of the stomach.

They not only ward off the cold, but also the heat.

I am frequently affected with rheumatism in the back, and pains in the sides and legs. My wife and children have been ill, and two of ALCON's PLATINUM quickly relieved them. I have had a great number of cases of rheumatism, and have found it a great remedy.

It has been a great blessing to the world of them. I have now had them for twenty years, and always have them in the house.

THE WEYMOUTH FAIR.

The twenty-fourth annual exhibition of the Weymouth Agricultural and Industrial Society was opened on their fair grounds at South Weymouth on Thursday morning, and will last to day and to-morrow with attractions unequalled in the history of the association. It is universally conceded that the annual cattle show is pre-eminent in the category of pleasurable local events; for then it is that the stock breeders, the fowl fanciers, and the growers of fruits and vegetables have an opportunity to compare their products with those of their fellow townsmen and neighbors, the ties to exhibit their cattle and settle with the grooms. There will be a wagon race in the 500 class at 10 a.m., a half mile foot race at 11, and racing race at 1 p.m. A team to trot over one and one-half miles will be at 11, and racing race at 1 p.m. A team to trot over one and one-half miles will be at 11, and racing race at 1 p.m. The Weymouth horse ball club will play a match game with the winner of Thursday's game, and at 11 Prof. Hayward will make his grand balloon ascent, with trapzeze performances, which everybody should witness.

The Mountain Champlainians met on Monday evening, Sept. 17, with the vice president, Mrs. R. L. Hunt. As this was the first meeting of the season and the class not quite ready for their fall work, a short miscellaneous program was provided, consisting of songs by Mrs. J. G. Worster and Mrs. R. L. Hunt; reading by Rev. Mr. Hyde, the pastor of Washington Irving, with a sketch of Washington Irving, and a short talk upon the Medieval Churches by Rev. Mr. Easton.

The exhibition of apples and peaches, grapes, etc., was excellent and attractive, the most prominent being apples; the Hubbardston, Nonessic and Unknown, and Mrs. Elizabeth Lord; New York Pippin, Pound Sweet and Baldwin; by J. H. Howe; Pears; Sheep Red Bartlett; Apples; Chipping Hill, Thompson with Lawrence, Ashton, Hill, Clarendon, Sheldon, B. Rose, by John Moore; Grapes; Lee, Concord, Green, White, Dyer, Water, Grape, G. S. Holbrook; Black Hamburg, Newton, Holbrook; the May of Newton, a Newton packed plum; a gooseberry; there is a good outlook, four new names being presented and accepted for membership, and they would be pleased to receive them for a trial.

Mrs. Joseph Cummings, keeper of the almshouse, has gone to Maine for a short visit. Mrs. Cummings accompanied him.

Delphi Lodge, K. of P., of Weymouth, is the guest of Jameson Lodge, of Brockton, at the Grand officers' vocation.

Frank Dennis has returned to Boston University, where he will finish his classical course.

The nose-hole signal was sounded Wednesday morning, on account of the severe storm.

The Democratic party will soon unfurl their flag bearing the names of Cleveland and Thurman.

Frank Dennis has returned to Boston University, where he will finish his classical course.

The Yacht Club, which has been a long time coming, has now names being presented and accepted for membership, and they would be pleased to receive them for a trial.

Weymouth Improvement Association.

A meeting of the energetic committee of the Weymouth Improvement Association was held at the house of president Geo. E. Porter, last Monday evening, and it was voted to appropriate $100 for use by the public grounds committee to be expended in paying bills for the fountain in Garfield square. An appropriation of $50 was also made for the street lighting committee.

The subject of raking arrangements for a supper to be given by the association at a future date, with invitations to be extended to the officers of incorporated associations in other towns, was brought up, and action will probably be taken at another meeting.

It would be pleasant for the association to make return for similar associations tendered its officers by other associations.

Improvement.

Some few weeks ago a petition was sent to the railroad commissioners to extend the crossing at Quincy avenue, and the railroad company agreed to do so, and a heavier load can be given them. They will now be pleased to learn that the engineers of the Old Colony are here last Saturday, taking measurements, and found that there was ample room to move the building of Dr. Charles A. Land, who has been a sick, is reported to be somewhat better.

Richard Purdy went to Maine Monday, to visit his aged mother, whom he had not seen for twenty-one years.

W. M. Jordan and wife are at Denmark, Me., for a few weeks.

The Eureka Drum Corps meet three times each week for practice.

Mrs. Pierce, housekeeper for John Dennis, has removed to New York.

Mrs. William Mitchell is expected to arrive from Richmond, Va., within a few days.

Mr. J. M. Walsh starts soon for St. Louis, where it is reported will possibly remain all winter.

Albert Vinton has been removed to the almshouse.

Mrs. Horace Hamilton has returned from her sojourn on the coast of Maine. A report has been circulated that Mr. E. H. Whelan intended to vote for Cleveland and Thurman this fall. Mr. Whelan is a staunch Republican and a firm believer in the party principles, and says he would not vote for Cleveland and Thurman, even though the election is now in the hands of the railroad and doubtful. It will soon be made known.

Incident.

One of the depot carriages of Mr. A. L. Hobart was overturned last Monday evening, by coming in contact with the railroad opposite J. B. Rhines' lumber dealer, the night being very dark. In the carriage were four passengers, one of whom, Mrs. Isaac of North Weymouth, was slightly injured, while the others, a lady and her son, who are visiting Mr. Arthur Cook's, were somewhat bruised. The two injured persons were taken to the depot and Dr. Tinkham was called to attend them, when they were conveyed home. The driver of the team was thrown off by the collision, but the horse stopped at once, and but little damage was done to the carriage.

Church Attendance.

A good number of members of the churches at the Landing gathered in the hall, being a union meeting to consider the subject of attendance on Sabbath religious services in the places. The exercises were opened with organ voluntary and anthem by the choir, "In Heavenly Love abiding," prayer by Rev. L. W. Smith, hymn, reading of Scripture, Luke 14 ch., Rev. Mr. Hyde, quartet "Rock of Ages," Miss Alice Blanchard, Miss Annie Hunt, Mr. J. J. Loud, Mr. E. T. Pitt.

Rev. E. T. Pitt then addressed the assembly, saying that we have come here to determine whether the obligation of the town, as far as our people to the state of things here. Non church attendance is a moral disease and affects the health of our people. He had a meeting last evening where over 150 people have left this station for the beach on Sundays during the summer. Many boats on the river conveying pleasure. On Commercial and Washington Streets in Lincoln square, 45 per cent of the population are non-churchgoers. Some may not have been brought up to attend church; others may think their church does not want them. It is a general statement that people do not go to church because they think others do not go. We have a great opportunity for the gospel abroad.

What would be the result in our community if all went to church? It would affect the schools. The school is the handbook of the church; the church provides the moral influence which the school is missing. The teacher is a Christian, the pupils are taught to preach to the masses. But the majority of parents are not so, and we all come to church. He had heard of a man who staid at home on the Sabbath because a church member had the shop with a man who had wronged him; he can't afford it; neither can he afford to let go the spiritual food that the gospel affords.
